BEASTS RUMORED TO EXIST

Sketches reconstructed from accounts supplied by Theaterland locals

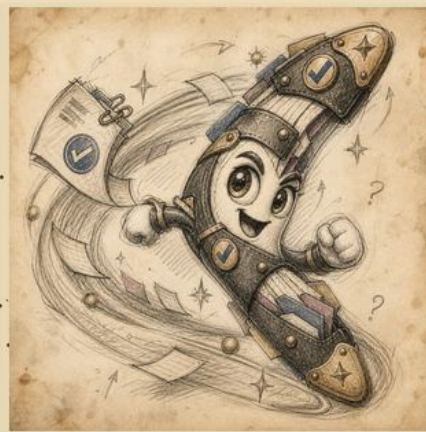

CONFIRMED SIGHTINGS · NO AWARDS ASSIGNED

Quantum Parrot

LEGENDARY RUMOR

Now we say it. Now we don't.

Finality Boomerang

RARE RUMOR

Final means until the next attachment.

Template Kraken

UNCOMMON RUMOR

One paragraph, many tentacles.

Predicate Pickpocket

RARE RUMOR

Watch the missing element.

FOUR CONFIRMED HISTORICAL SIGHTINGS | ZERO AWARDS

KEEPER'S NOTE

Theaterland is thick with stories, but this compendium reveals only creatures for which the retained request-and-response corpus contains at least one rule-complete historical sighting. Every sketch is an interpretive reconstruction. It is not evidence, a legal finding, a recurrence claim, or a collectible award.

HOW TO READ THE GUIDE

- 1 A creature appears only after every catalog proof element is met and no exclusion reasonably reconciles the event.
- 2 One confirmed sighting establishes visibility, not recurrence or a custodian count.
- 3 The source tracks and audit ID control; the sketch and local story are orientation aids.
- 4 Creatures with no confirmed occurrence remain unnamed and hidden until a later bounded audit finds one.

WHAT THEATERLAND LOCALS REPORT

Locals describe a brilliantly plumed bird heard making an agency finding in June, then insisting in August that it had added nothing at all. No molt, correction, or change of habitat was announced.

IDENTIFICATION RULE

The same organization takes materially incompatible official positions about the same predicate without acknowledging a change, distinguishing the facts, or correcting the earlier position.

FINALITY BOOMERANG

"Final means until the next attachment."

WHAT THEATERLAND LOCALS REPORT

Several locals swear they watched a file marked finished arc over the district roof, disappear, and return on June 10 carrying two more bundles of responsive correspondence.

IDENTIFICATION RULE

A production is represented as complete, final, fully responsive, or exhausted, and another responsive record from that represented universe later appears or is identified.

TEMPLATE KRAKEN

UNCOMMON RUMOR

"One paragraph, many tentacles."

WHAT THEATERLAND LOCALS REPORT

Locals report one clerkly kraken stamping the same sentence across fifteen very different files, one tentacle per request, while the request-specific questions slipped beneath its filing box.

IDENTIFICATION RULE

Substantially identical boilerplate is used across materially different requests and fails to address their request-specific predicates.

gmail 19ff1e16a7fb74ef.txt (lines 18-89) - Fifteen request rows and fifteen exact repetitions of the stock phrase, with limited modifiers on some rows.

SELECTED RECORD REPATRIATION ANALYSIS 2026-08-13.md (request-family and predicate analysis) - Source-controlled comparison of the materially different request families and omitted predicates.

PREDICATE PICKPOCKET

RARE RUMOR

"Watch the missing element."

WHAT THEATERLAND LOCALS REPORT

Witnesses say a masked bird lifted the parent-authority and per-transmission pieces from a carefully assembled predicate, then answered the smaller identity-only puzzle left on the table.

IDENTIFICATION RULE

A response silently removes, substitutes, or collapses a necessary element of the actual criterion, request, or asserted predicate and then answers the easier version.

TRACKS LEFT BEHIND

REQUEST.md (lines 30-63) - Per-transmission access, classification, authority, verification, and decision-record predicates.

REQUEST.md (lines 13-39) - Per-transmission identity, parent-authority, disclosure-authority, and breach determination requested.

1868891304110314602 original.txt (lines 180-189) - MDE states that parent/guardian identity verification is required before release and enrollment files are inadequate.

MDE OBrien Response Letter 2026-08-05.txt (lines 10-20) - Identity-only and all-communications reformulation.
